WANTS SCHOOLS TO CEASE PAYING TO RETIREMENT FUND

Bucks County School Directors Think Fund Can Now Carry Itself

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED

Directors Also Want To Be Represented in State Council of Education

DOYLESTOWN, Apr. 11—The Bucks County School Directors' Association in session here yesterday at the Court House passed appropriate resolutions on the death of the late County Superintendent J. Harry Hoffman.

The directors also advocated that steps be taken to decrease or eliminate the contributions of school boards to the Teachers' Retirement Fund since it is built up to a point where it can carry itself without further board contributions.

The school directors also want representation in the State Council of Education. They also advocate the elimination of the duplication of auditors' reports.

The new Superintendent, Charles H. Boehm, of Morrisville, appeared before the convention for the first time as the head of Bucks county schools. He stressed the importance of a school directors' job and called attention to the fact that the directors of Bucks county have a big job for they have 13,500 children under their care.

Dr. W. A. Roberts, of Newtown, past president of the Pennsylvania State School Directors' Association, discussed 1941 school legislation and the possible effects on Bucks County.

One of the resolutions favored was that school directors be nominated without party designation or that they may be nominated on more than one party ticket.

It was also recommended that school bus drivers be instructed to give cars reasonable opportunities to pass them, just as many truck drivers are instructed to do. The directors also advocated that the increased tuition appropriation law of 1937 be not further postponed.

Wayne Fry Tells of An Interesting Motor Trip

The Bristol Exchange Club met last evening in the Elks' Home, President Horace Schmidt presided.

A communication from Mrs. J. Marvel Durham, president of the Cadet Booster Association, was received. President Schmidt requested support of the members for this worthy organization.

Mr. Schmidt introduced Mrs. Hugh B. Eastburn, of the Bristol Travel Club, who extended an invitation to the Exchange Club to attend a lecture on "Union Now" at the Travel Club home on Thursday, April 17th.

Roy F. Fry reported that the annual meeting of the Bristol and Burlington service clubs "in celebration of the opening of the Bristol-Burlington bridge, would be held on May 20th, with Judge Calvin C. Boyer as the speaker. The Bristol club will act as hosts on this occasion.

Mr. Schmidt then introduced Wayne Fry, of the Thomas L. Leedom Company, who gave a very interesting lecture on a motor trip through the Western States and Canada, in which he covered 8,500 miles. Mr. Fry illustrated his talk with many colored views.

With a very clever technique of picking up the members on one of the Leedom Company's "magic carpets," he started with several interesting pictures of Bristol and then carried his audience across the West, into Canada, and then down the Rocky Mountain States to Colorado.

Many very interesting slides were shown of the Bad Lands of the Dakotas, the Black Hills. Special attention was given to Mt. Rushmore Memorial. Mr. Fry explaining how the work was carried on and how accuracy on the gigantic figures of Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt was attained. The most colorful pictures were those taken at Lake Louise and these were followed by the most fitting climax of all—the Grand Canyon of the Colorado.

Mr. Fry was warmly applauded and given a rising vote of thanks for his interesting travelogue.

TULLYTOWN

Mrs. Emma Howell broke her hip when she fell from the steps at her home. She was removed to the Abington Memorial Hospital, Abington.

Red Sea Opened To American Shipping

Washington, D. C., Apr. 11—President Roosevelt today reopened the Red Sea and the Gulf of Aden to American shipping so that much-needed aid can be transported to Egypt.

The President signed an executive order revoking an earlier one which placed those two little Eastern water areas within combat zone, thus forbidding American merchantmen from entering.

In making his announcement, the President also declared specifically that the Suez Canal was not declared a combat zone, and that therefore American shipping could convey materials destined for a neutral—such as Egypt—up to the canal.

British Bombers Hammer Ruhr

London, Apr. 11—British bombers hammered the Ruhr district of Germany last night and for the second time "straddled" the 25,000-ton German battle cruisers Scharnhorst and Gneisenau with bombs in an assault on the Nazi-held French port of Brest, the Air Ministry announced today.

"Yesterday a force of Blenheim bombers carried out a surprise attack on Borkum and direct hits were observed on buildings and troops," the Ministry said. "Last night a number of targets in the Ruhr and Rhineland were attacked despite bad weather. Dusseldorf was the main goal."

Miners' Strike Still Unsettled

New York, Apr. 11—A new stumbling block was today delaying a settlement of wage negotiations which would reopen the nation's soft coal mines and send 400,000 men back to their jobs.

Owners of the mines, who have been negotiating a new contract with John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, for almost a month, were reported to be insisting that if they grant the $1 a day raise demand of the miners they be given assurance that the Government will expedite the fixing of coal prices so they can meet the wage increase.

No coal has been mined in the past ten days—since the old contract expired.

TO RELATE EXPERIENCES OF EXTENSIVE TRAVELS

John Stapler Hollister Will Address Meeting of Fathers Association

TRAVELED ON $1 A DAY

"To the Four Corners of the Earth on $1 a Day."

This is the title of the message to be brought before members of the Fathers Association of Bristol public schools on Wednesday evening in the Bristol high school auditorium by John Stapler Hollister.

In his entertaining lecture, which he illustrates with an exhibition of unusual curios collected from 35 countries of the world, John Hollister brings to light a new angle on travel. He describes the hardships and adventures which came to him and his brother as they made their way around the world on only a dollar a day apiece. He shows that the most memorable side of travel is the number of rare experiences which one has, rather than the sights which one has seen.

Mr. Hollister was educated at the George School, Newtown, and the University of Pennsylvania, from which he graduated in 1936. He then secured a position as traveling foreign correspondent for a newspaper, and with his brother set out upon this unique trip around the world. Enroute he wrote articles for newspapers in Cairo, Calcutta, Singapore, and Tokio. Since his return to the United States, he has been lecturing at schools, clubs, and public gatherings.

TO ORGANIZE FOR RELIEF

An invitation is extended to all the Jewish women in Bristol and vicinity to attend the meeting, April 16th, in Trades Hall, to discuss plans for foreign aid. The attending group will be organized into a unit for the American Red Cross and British War Relief.

2500 persons attended the sale, proceeds of which amounted to $4250. The sale of the poultry alone amounted to $2902.76. The poultry offering was quite heavy and good prices were received. Approximately 350 crates of poultry were sold.

The cattle sale was only fair. No cows, heifers and horses were sold because of the lack of satisfactory bids. Four bulls were sold from $29 to $37, and 13 calves brought from $2.50 to $20 each. Seventeen goats were sold from $1.25 to $7.55 each and five sheep brought from $3.25 to $3.50 each.

Officers who will be in charge of the activities of the organization during the next year are as follows: President, Mrs. S. C. Jefferson, Pineville; vice-president, Leonard A. Hampton, Holicong; secretary, Miss Nellie McGill; and treasurer, Miss Ruth Buckman.

During the business session, which was in charge of Mrs. Jefferson, a report of the evening school, which has concluded its sessions, was presented. The school, which had an enrollment of 92 persons, it was said, was an outstanding success.

After several months of deliberation, the Richboro Fire Company placed an order this week for a tank wagon to supplement its equipment. The contract for the building of the truck body was awarded to Millard Reeder, Newtown, and it should be ready for delivery within six weeks. The president appointed the following committee to attend to the financing of the subject: John Fleer, Furman A. Edwards, Theodore Luff, Clifton Post, George Frey, Russell Lowmes, Preston Stover, Harry Gill and George Mulvey.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

"Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc."

Three Courses Open

Washington, April 10. FOR the first time since we officially adopted a policy of full aid to Great Britain, based on the fact that our own salvation is linked with the British survival, things are going badly for our side. Stimulated by the rout of the Italians in Africa, by the heroic fighting of the Greeks and the thrilling refusal of the Yugoslavs to accept the German yoke, the reverses of the last few days in the Balkans and in Africa have been a great shock.

—O—

SIMULTANEOUSLY, the news concerning the battle of the Atlantic, which more closely concerns us, is depressing. The latest official British figures show that in four weeks, from February 23 to March 23, 400,413 tons of shipping were lost through submarine attacks. This means that the Germans are sinking British ships at the rate of five million tons a year. The best estimate of present combined British-American ship production is approximately two million a year. In other words, the Germans are destroying shipping more than twice as fast as it can be replaced.

IF that continues unchecked, the answer is clear. Mr. Churchill made it plain enough on Wednesday. There is no use softening the facts. Unless that ratio can be reversed, the war will be lost. Unchecked, it means a Nazi victory, the horror of which cannot be exaggerated for England and the menace of which to ourselves is very real. It is imperative that we face the facts and make a momentous decision. Either we measure up as an ally or we check short. Either we match our words

Dr. W. P. Maddox To Speak Here of Federal Union

Dr. William P. Maddox, associate professor of political science at the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, will present the subject of federal union at an open meeting called under auspices of The Travel Club on Thursday evening at eight o'clock in the Travel Club home.

"The wide discussion of federal union, as proposed by Clarence K. Streit in his book, 'Union Now,' marks the timeliness of the subject," states the committee in charge.

"The practicability of the proposal of a federal union of democracies lies in the fact that it does discard as being unworkable the principle of unbridled national sovereignty, and would suggest that those peoples sharing common beliefs surrender that amount of sovereignty which does not work to the mutual advantage of the family of nations. In a word, federal union would extend to other democratic, free peoples, that same system of government which we Americans have been enjoying. Ultimately, federal union would envisage a union of all mankind," concludes the announcement of the committee.

TULLYTOWN MAN ESCAPES INJURY IN BLIMP CRASH

Benjamin Zucker, With Four Others, Wades Swamp After L2 is Damaged

IN SERVICE 10 YEARS

One of the crew of five men who escaped with their lives when the Navy blimp L2 crashed in a cedar swamp a short distance from the U. S. Naval Air Station at Lakehurst, N. J., yesterday morning, is a resident of Tullytown.

The Tullytown man who was in the quintet which had risen in the blimp after practicing take-offs, is Benjamin Zucker, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Magro, Bridge street, Tullytown.

When relatives of Zucker telephoned the Lakehurst naval station, yesterday, to inquire as to his safety, they were informed by officials that none of the men aboard the L2 had been injured, and all had returned to the naval air station safely following the crash. The five, it is said, had waded through mud and water which reached their armpits.

Zucker, who has been in the naval air service for the past ten years, has been stationed at Lakehurst for approximately two years. He is an machinist's mate, first class. He spent last week-end at his home in Tullytown. The engagement of Miss Anna Clott, Jefferson avenue, to Mr. Zucker, was announced this week by Miss Clott's parents here.

Zucker, who attended Tullytown grammar school, entered the service when quite young.

When the blimp, one of the smallest type used by the United States Navy, crashed a quarter mile from the air station at Lakehurst, the outer cover was badly torn, the gas bags were punctured and most of the 125,000 cubic feet of helium was lost. The propeller was also bent. It is stated, about two weeks' work will be necessary for salvage of the craft, officials state.

No cause was assigned for the crash, but it was believed trailing ropes had become entangled with scrub pine and cedar, and had drawn the ship into the swamp.

As Lieutenant Henry F. Burford, Interlaken, N. J., and the four other members of the crew waded to safety, a detachment of Marines and sailors was rushed from the naval reservation to the swamp.

Lieutenant Burford and his crew had already sloshed their way to high ground. Other members were: W. G. Calhoun, of Chicago, first class boatswain's mate; K. A. Northless, Lander, Wyo., air machinist's mate second class; and T. E. Willoughby, of Black Rock, Ky., air machinist's mate third class.

Salvage work is being supervised by Lieutenant Arthur I. Flaherty, public works officer at the air station. The blimp's fins, rudders and two motors were carried to safety.

Salvage of the ship itself will be performed by 200 WPA workers under supervision of Lieutenant John P.

In 1885 Mr. Morris became associated with the Philadelphia Manufacturers Mutual Fire Insurance Co., becoming president of the company in 1932. He retired one year ago due to ill health.

Industrial Arts Department Making Operetta Scenery

Under direction of Lester Michael, the students of the Industrial Arts Department of Bristol high school are working very hard to develop elaborate scenery for the operetta, "A Waltz Dream."

In the first act, the scenery will represent a hall in the castle of Maximilian X, King of Sylvania. Much is being done to make it look just like the real thing. The scenery for the second act will be that of a cafe garden, near the palace. The third act takes you back to the palace. Since work has already been started, the scenery will be finished in plenty of time for the performance, which will be held on April 24th and 25th, at the Grand Theatre.

GRAND THEATRE

Hal Roach's new all-laugh comedy, "Road Show," was given a gala premiere last night at the Grand Theatre and proved to be one of the gayest and liveliest pictures to come out of Hollywood this season. Based on the best-seller of the same name by Eric Hatch, the story of "Road Show" lends itself to brilliant screen treatment because it has high comedy situations, exciting romance, fine background settings and human interest appeal. Mr. Roach, who both produced and directed the picture, has always been famous for his comedy touch and he proves once again that he is a master in this picture field.

"Road Show" clicks as smart comedy because it is played by a fine cast which includes such Hollywood luminaries as Adolphe Menjou, Carole Landis, John Hubbard, Patsy Kelly, George E. Stone, Charles Butterworth, Polly Ann Young and Margaret Roach.

VOTE FOR INCREASE IN COST OF FISHING LICENSES IN STATE

Providing Increase Is Ear-Marked for Purchase of Streams, Lakes

SPORTSMEN'S MEETING

Session In Doylestown; Bills Before Legislature Discussed

DOYLESTOWN, Apr. 11—An increase in the cost of fishing licenses was voted by 16 of the 18 sportsmen's clubs represented at a meeting of Bucks County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs, held in the K. G. E. building on Tuesday evening. The increase which the sportsmen voted in favor of, is on the proposition that the increase be ear-marked for purchase of streams and lakes in Pennsylvania.

President Charles A. Rowe, who presided, explained there are 23 clubs comprising the county federation, and 18 of the clubs had delegates in attendance Tuesday evening.

A number of bills which are now before the State Legislature, were discussed. Most of them were approved by the sportsmen but some of them received their disapproval.

About 150 sportsmen from all sections of the county were present, and the guest speakers included two well-known Allentown sportsmen, William Dreisbach and Robert Stone, who is a member of the Lehigh County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs and discussed conditions in Lehigh county.

Five reels of moving pictures through the courtesy of the Kings Farms, Morrisville, were shown.

President Rowe said the sportsmen enjoyed one of the most active discussions ever held by the club in connection with increase in fishing license revenue.

Hungarians Rush To Prevent Anarchy

Budapest, Apr. 11—Hungarian troops raced across the Yugoslavian frontier today to protect Hungarian nationals in Yugoslav territory against "anarchy."

The troops were sent across the border a few hours after Admiral Horthy, Hungarian Regent, issued a proclamation announcing that Yugoslavia is "dissolving" and no longer exists as a nation.

Earlier Hungarian newspapers had reported new clashes along the frontier. The Hungarian forces entered northern Yugoslav territory which was taken from the Austro-Hungarian empire at the end of the World War in 1918.

Horthy's manifesto to the nation, stating the troops were to protect Hungarians in Yugoslavia from anarchy and that Yugoslavia was dissolving, reflected the full story of Hungarian-Yugoslavian relations during recent years.

In his manifesto Horthy saluted the new independent state established in Croatia, with Zagreb as its capital, and in effect told Hungarian troops to re-occupy the territory which belonged to this country before being ceded to Yugoslavia in 1918.

Expect Yugoslavia To Capitulate

Berlin, Apr. 11—Yugoslavia is expected to capitulate to German military forces within 48 hours, authoritative German quarters predicted today.

"It is no longer possible to say there is a Yugoslavian army," these quarters declared. "It is smashed and melting apart."

"On all Yugoslavian fronts troops are surrendering by the tens of thousands."

Swift-moving German forces "hotly pursuing the enemy northwest of Nis destroyed several Yugoslav divisions," the German supreme command announced.

"Ten thousand prisoners and 70 guns, as well as a large quantity of other materials were captured."

Informed Berlin quarters said the Greek front is still holding together, according to present indications, although a wholesale Greek retreat was declared to be continuing.

Berlin circles expressed belief that the "Yugoslavian collapse" will sharply undermine Greek military resistance and "undoubtedly hasten Greece's doom."

Condition of Man Who Was Burned is "Good" and he is able to take liquid food. Although definite cause of the fire which damaged the kitchen and dining-room of the Carson home, is undetermined, it is believed by the Carsons that the blaze started in the kitchen, eating its way through a window frame, where there was no glass, to the dining-room. A davenport in the dining-room, just beneath this window, was completely destroyed, the springs alone remaining.

Just where Mr. Thomas was when the flames broke out has not been determined, but as his clothing was not damaged by flames at all, it is presumed he was not in the section where the fire started.

When questioned last evening about the fire, to learn if he knew how or where it might have originated, Mr. Thomas was unable to give any details. Being a fireman, he could not understand why he had fought the blaze with his hands, as he kept telling members of his family "I can't understand why I fought it with my hands. I knew better."

When Mr. and Mrs. Carson were awakened by a neighbor, Mrs. Charles Baldwin, whose family was aroused by the odor of smoke, they hurried from the bed-room to the first floor and out of doors. As they rushed through the smoke-filled house they called to Mrs. Carson's brother, who answered from the first floor. Believing he would follow, the Carsons went outside. When Thomas failed to appear, firemen were informed, and Chief of Bristol Consolidated Company, Clifford Hagerman, went in search of him. Thomas had gone up-stairs, possibly thinking the Carsons required help, according to members of the family. Dragging Thomas, who was overcome by smoke, to the top of the stairs, Hagerman called to Captain Edward Gallagher for aid, and the two carried Thomas to the street, where he was revived.

The only mark on Thomas' clothing was a streak of grease and a very slight scorch on the inside of one sleeve, his sleeves having been rolled up. The back of his shirt was not burned, and the burns on his back are said to be caused by the intense heat.

In the kitchen of the Carson home is a gas stove for cooking, but all burners were turned off, it is said. The worst damage was confined to the kitchen, and the flames evidently ate through the glassless window frame, burning up the davenport in the dining-room, and the walls surrounding it. The entire house was penetrated with smoke, with goods in storage being smoked; and portions of the house interior were blistered.

Nothing makes a selective service man in camp happier than a letter from home or a home-town newspaper in the daily mail, army officials said recently after an extensive survey.

Next in order, the selective service youth likes sweets such as candy, cookies and chocolates—and chewing gum!

Officers say that on the march the gum helps keep the boys from drinking too much water and from dipping into their lunch ration.

Other offerings which bring a smile of pleasure to the enrollee include a general repertoire of utilities among which are books of stamps, flashlights, a towel now and then, toilet articles, and reading materials.

Officers say that if relatives want to be sure their addressee gets what's mailed to him, they should address the letter or package in this way: Name first, his company or battery second, his regiment third, and, lastly the name of the post office.

BLDG. FUND SPONSORS SEE PREVIEW OF FILMS

Motion Pictures of Recent Parade To Be Shown At
Theatre in Croydon

BRICK SALE CONTINUES

CROYDON, Apr. 11.—Building fund sponsors of the Croydon Fire Company were treated to a preview of motion pictures of the March 30th parade, following a busy session Wednesday night. The moving pictures were taken by Floyd Yocum, who has arranged a film to be shown to the public at the Ritz Theatre from tonight to Monday night inclusive.

Pictures of the parade were taken on color film and make an interesting showing because of the local interest. Each unit of the parade was cast as it came down Bristol Pike and again when it passed the reviewing stand at Patterson avenue and State road. The film also includes the ground-breaking ceremonies showing district attorney Edward Biester turning the first shovel of earth while some of the sponsors look on. All speakers are shown in the pictures.

The pictures also show local firemen in action at fires in the Croydon and Bristol districts. All band units made an exceptional showing in the color film with its many and varied colors. Croydon firemen will receive part of the receipts to the shows for the benefit of the building fund.

Firemen were instructed at the meeting to continue their sale of bricks for the new firehouse. Arrangements have been made to make a house-to-house canvass within the next week to further the drive. The sponsors will meet again Monday evening, at which time plans and specifications will be gone over thoroughly before being sent to Harrisburg for final approval. Both organizations hope to see actual construction begun within the near future.

Try New Flavors

Use Your Favorite Recipe If You Wish
But Vary It By Using A Different
Flavoring

Many of us get into cooking ruts with our pies, cakes, puddings and custards. We have a recipe that has proved satisfactory and we use this recipe without change—time after time. Often a change in the flavoring used, in the meringue, the frosting, the filling or in the actual ingredients will give us something entirely different yet equally delicious.

Take your favorite rennet-custard for example. This is economical and healthful. It calls for no eggs, no boiling and no baking. But perhaps you stick closely to vanilla, raspberry or chocolate as a flavor. Why not try a recipe like one of the following and get a real dessert thrill?

Ginger Way

- 1 household rennet tablet
- 1 tablespoon cold water
- 1 pint milk, ordinary or homogenized
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- ½ cup whipped cream
- 4 or 5 ginger snaps

Preserved ginger
Set out 4 or 5 dessert dishes. Break a ginger snap into each dessert dish. Make rennet-custards according to directions in package. Pour at once over ginger snaps. Do not move until firm—about 10 minutes. Then chill in refrigerator. When ready to serve, top with whipped cream and a bit of grated preserved ginger.

Maple Delight

- 1 household rennet tablet
- 1 tablespoon cold water
- 1 pint milk, ordinary or homogenized
- ½ cup maple syrup

Set out 4 or 5 dessert dishes. Make rennet-custards according to directions in package, using 3 tablespoons maple syrup in place of sugar and vanilla. Then chill in refrigerator. Before serving, top each dish of rennet-custard with a tablespoon of maple syrup.

Faith Clarke's SHOPPING TIPS FOR BUDGETEERS

(Speaking of cabbages and kings, this week our knowing shopper has skipped from Easter eggs to Easter hats, with welcome things between. All to help make this festive spring season a happy yet inexpensive one for all her readers.)

Hurry that Easter egg and Easter basket buying! Snellenburg's Candy Dept. is famous for its chocolate cream eggs, especially the delicious "Hardies". This brand comes attractively boxed—¾ lb. eggs, 25c; 1 lb. eggs, 49c; 2 lb. eggs, 95c, and giant 3 lb. eggs, $1.39. Coconut cream or fruit nut. Luscious little chocolate cream eggs, 39c lb. Equally nice gifts for children and adults. Snellenburg's upstairs Toy Dept. has a gay assortment of Easter baskets. Unfilled, from 25c to 65c; filled, $1 to $4.98. Buy big ones!

Easter gloves are a "must". There isn't a better $1 assortment of fabrics in the city than is now in Snellenburg's 1st fl. Glove Dept., in sizes 6 to 8, and half sizes. Many styles and a choice of materials, including rayon. There's the demanded four-button classic slip-on, always good. Besides, frilled and embroidered styles. All exceptionally good value and unusually good cut. These timely gloves are in all the wanted shades and tints, for combining with Easter ensembles. Nearby are more expensive gloves for less, I think, than at most places.

A raft of Nylon stockings! Don't ask how the clever manager of Snellenburg's Hosiery Dept. secured such a surprisingly generous supply. That would be telling! Grand Easter shades, and about 14 outstanding makes. These Nylons range from the sturdiest to the very sheerest 54 gauge. Priced at $1.35, $1.50 and $1.95, they include Arbest, Kayser, Phoenix, Roman Stripe, Northmont, Apex, Van Raalte, Cannon, McCallum, Gold Mark, Lucky Circle, Gray Line, Run Proof, and Miss Cupid. Why not for Easter gifts as well as yourself?

Have you been to Snellenburg's popular Auditorium (3rd fl.)? This Easter season the Director is introducing Marion Bishop with her countrywide famous Marionettes. Children adore them and adults are fascinated. These streamlined theatre folks performed at the New York World's Fair. A foot and a half high, they give a lifelike and charming performance of two plays, "The Magic Cloak" and "The Cat and the Fiddle". Time—daily, 11:30, 2 and 3:30, and Wednesday evening, 7:30. Please, please, don't miss this fun!

If you can't have an Easter frock—or if you can—give a serious thought to gay neckwear. Nothing so freshens the appearance as a bit of lingerie in high favor this season, and the neckwear at Snellenburg's is equal to the best. There are frosty pieces from 95c to $1.95. They can't be surpassed at these prices. These include collars, cuffs, vests, etc., in both tailored and lingerie styles. There are especially nice revers for coats. Pieces in maize, white, pink, blue. Luxurious pieces, too, at $4.95.

A joyful Easter to you. May you look gay and springlike, and feel that way, too! "F. C." (Herself)

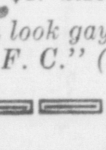

Ham for dinner is an Easter tradition. Snellenburg's Food Dept. takes pride in Easter hams. The shop delivers a Swift Premium Ham, tend sized for quick cooking, at 29c per lb., canned Hormels at 55c per lb., and Hormel half-hams at 95c complete. Also, there's a Swift Picnic Ham cooked and ready to eat, even to pineapple and cherries, at but 32c per lb. Snellenburg hams are really worth considering. Oh, yes—buy a bottle of the most sophisticated, tasty French dressing ever bottled. Helen Harrison's, 25c and 45c for 8 and 16 ozs. respectively. Grand!

Ditch that old handbag. Better—pass it on for second-hand enjoyment! A handbag for Easter is necessary to a feeling of well being. Buy yourself a new beauty in Snellenburg's 1st fl. Handbag Dept. Latest models done in various simulated leathers (you can't tell some from genuine) are but $1. Black and many colors. Amazing craftsmanship. Still others at $1.85 are fashioned of real calf, capeskin, patent, goat, etc. All current shades. Nice fabric bags, too, including Roman stripe silks, can also be had for only $1.

Her Easter hat! Even youngsters with the hatless habit want a really nice one for just such occasions as this festive season and the Sundays following. The Girls' Dept. of the Snellenburg Store has a delightful collection of hats for girls 7 to 16. The styles are as abreast of the times as the hats for older young women, yet are sufficiently youthful to please mothers of younger girls. Stunning leg-horns, $2.95, and new lightweight, semi-transparent navy straw hats at $2. Scotties and nauticals, $1 and $2. Sizes 20 to 22 ½.

The decorations were balloons of many colors. Games, music and dancing were enjoyed, and refreshments were served.

Make your Power as you need it

THE only way to get power out of an engine is to burn fuel in it.

And it wouldn't be smart to burn enough gas to develop a hundred-plus horsepower all of the time—when it usually takes only a small part of that to give you the performance you want.

The sensible thing to do is to develop power as you need it—and that is precisely what the Buick FIREBALL eight with Compound Carburetion† does.

As long as one of the two carburetors in this system will do the job, that is the only one that functions.

But when you need extra power, extra pressure on the foot throttle throws an extra carburetor into action, feeding more fuel mixture into your engine and pouring more horsepower out.

15% more mileage than the same engines once gave with one!

Interesting? We think so too—especially now.

DOYLESTOWN DIRECTORS SELECT A PRINCIPAL

Hollis A. Lachat, Member of Faculty for 11 Years, To Head High School

3 TEACHERS RESIGN

DOYLESTOWN, Apr. 10.—Hollis A. Lachat, who for 11 years has been instructor of English and problems of democracy, has been named by the board of directors of Doylestown public schools, as principal of the high school here. The salary for the 12-month period is $2100.

Mr. Lachat, who succeeded Miss Mary Elizabeth Lamb, resigned, will also teach in the Summer school. He is president of the Bucks County Teachers' Association.

Miss Lamb, a member of the high school faculty for 21 years, has resigned to return to her home.

Two other resignations were tendered the board of directors, namely Mrs. Margaret E. B. Haldeman, instructor of vocal music, and Mrs. James Fretz, who has been teaching in the third grade.

Supervising principal J. Leland Halderman, in commenting on the resignations, paid tribute to the service given by Miss Lamb for nearly a quarter of a century. "Miss Lamb has been one of the finest influences in the school system here," said Mr. Halderman. The school board also went on record as being gratified with the excellent work done by Miss Lamb in her teaching career in the local system.

Mrs. Halston will return to Pottstown at the end of the present term in order to reside with her husband who is superintendent of the schools in that city.

Unusual Meat Dishes

Here are two recipes for unusual meat dishes—spicy main-course dishes that will be delightful for a change.

Flemish Chuck Steak
Inexpensive but delicious
5 pounds Chuck Roast
1 cup vinegar
2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons allspice
1 blade mace
2 cups bread crumbs
1 beaten egg
1 onion, chopped
Salt and pepper for dressing
Mixed powdered herbs: thyme, marjoram, sage and savory
1 tablespoon melted butter
1 can tomato paste

Cook salt, allspice and mace in vinegar 5 minutes. Pour over roast and let stand (covered) while preparing dressing. Combine remaining ingredient for dressing. Gash the meat deeply and fill the slits with dressing. Remove the meat from the spiced vinegar and brown it in fat. Add enough boiling water to prevent burning and an onion stuck with 4 cloves. Cover and simmer until tender (2 to 3 hours). Remove the meat and thicken the gravy with flour. Pour over the meat and serve.

Beef Chili Con Carne
2 tablespoons butter
1 large onion, shredded
1 small can pimientos
2 pounds cooked beef
2 cups beef stock
1 tablespoon chili powder
1 teaspoon salt
Pinch black pepper

Melt butter and add the shredded onion and chopped pimientos. Fry until brown. Add meat cut into small pieces and cook for 10 minutes. Then add stock and seasonings. Simmer for 1 hour in a frying pan with a tight cover. Garnish with cooked rice.

with our deeds or we flinch from action at the critical moment. The terrific strain of the Mediterranean campaign and the great problem of supplies for Wavell's army in Africa impose so heavy a burden that the British Navy is unable adequately to protect the cargo fleets upon which the British depend for food and war material.

THESE being the indisputable facts, there are open three things which we can do. First, we can continue as now, producing, at great cost, a vast volume of war material and food for the British, a large part of which will find its way to the British bottom because the enemy's ships are without real protection. Naturally, this is the course Hitler would like us to take. It not only would render futile our whole effort to help England but it would enable our mutual enemy to crush our ally while we look on with the weapon in our hands by which it might be prevented.

ANOTHER course which is being urged is for us to turn over to the British every available destroyer we have to supplement their own. A small step in that direction has just been taken in the transfer of ten Coast Guard cutters. The point made against this course is that it would take the British weeks to train British crews to handle American destroyers. The point made for it is that it would not involve us any deeper in the war than we are now—would merely be a repetition of what we did last year in turning over to the British fifty over-age destroyers. There is, however, opposition in the Navy Department, which does not want to turn over any more destroyers, on the ground that we may need them ourselves.

THE third choice is to use the full power of the American Navy to minimize the submarine sinkings and insure the delivery of the goods the British must have. There are two objections to this. One is that it would make us an active instead of a passive belligerent, definitely commit us, in an unconstitutional way, to a war with Germany. The other is that our first concern must be our own interests and the real decision for us to make is whether, if Britain seems doomed, our national interest would not lie in stopping short of any further involvement.

THOSE who make this argument say that there is no question of duty involved; that our first duty is to defend and protect this country, and that we must act in our own interests just as England and every other nation have done and are doing. Conceding this to be true, the fact remains that our whole aid-for-England policy is based on the conviction that the survival of the British is essential to our own safety and that without the British fleet that safety will disappear. If it be true that even if we take the convoy step the British still may go under and we be left alone with the war on our hands, it is also true that failure to take the convoy step may bring a defeat to England that could be averted. That would be an awful responsibility to assume; and if, assuming it, England went under, we still would be left alone before a victorious Hitler, who hardly could be expected to give us time to complete our defense and build a two-ocean navy.

NO one can look far ahead in this war and be certain of anything. Even those best posted have been badly off in their past guesses. The British may survive if we do nothing more than we are doing now, or they may go under if, throwing off all restrictions, we put the American Navy actively in with theirs. There is great risk, whatever we do, no matter which way we turn. In such a situation there is an old political axiom which seems to fit. It was evolved many years ago by the late Senator Claude Swanson, of Virginia, who was as practical as he was picturesque. One of his basic rules in politics, Mr. Swanson used to say, was this: "When in doubt, do right." This sounds low-minded, but it can be high-minded.

SELLERSVILLE DEFERS WATER RATE INCREASE

Two Members of Council
Think Increase Unfair To An Industry

RESUME THEIR PROTEST

SELLERSVILLE, Apr. 11 — An increase in the water rates for Sellersville borough is a possibility of the near future. But the passage of the ordinance stipulating the increase was deferred by council this week, when two members resumed protest, stating they feel the increase unfair to the United States Gauge Company.

It must pass a third reading before it becomes effective. Council still has until June to pass the ordinance. As before, a discussion arose as to what shall be done if the company builds its own water system and drills its own wells, as was hinted at the meeting in March by the president of the company, Josiah Place.

Councilman Claude Butterwick, chairman of the finance committee, intimated that the new rates might not be fair to all concerned. He added, however, that he feels the water supply will not be sufficient at the present rapid rate of increase in consumption. Several members of Council ventured to say that an even greater amount of water will be consumed next Summer. At present the daily rate of consumption is more than 240,000 gallons daily for the entire town as compared with 96,000 on Sundays.

One other perplexing problem facing Council is the building of the proposed new water line work on which was to have been started the first week in April with P. W. A. assistance. Due to the fact that there are not enough available men, the project has not as yet been started. The new water line is expected to save about $700 annually in pumping costs, making it possible to drive the water down hill with the aid of gravity from the supply basin. Without the new line the system might still function to supply the town with water, but it was brought out at the meeting that the filter operator, William Walter, is now operating a 60-hour week to keep up the steady demand. It said that since the U. S. Gauge plant has started to work at seven o'clock in the morning and is on a longer working day the water output jumped to a new high level.

It's Time To Announce A New Crop of Engagements

Engagement announcements fill the air these days, and next month's crop of brides is having a lot of parties. There are all sorts of clever ways of imparting the exciting news of an engagement to guests. A charming custom comes from the South. A trayful of corsages is passed about. Each corsage is tied with a ribbon, and the name of the fortunate man is written on one end, the name of the girl on the other.

Another interesting way to make the announcement is to write the names of man and girl on small cards, wrap the cards in waxed paper, and hide them in a cake in such positions that a card will surely be in each slice. The cake forms a delicious dessert, with ice cream; it's just as good served as the mainstay, with coffee, salted nuts and candles. Or it may be served with a light, dainty pudding.

So that your guests won't be troubled with sleeping problems later on it's a good idea to serve decaffeinated coffee. Here's a recipe for a novel party beverage that combines coffee with chocolate.

Engagement Coffolate

- 1 cup strong decaffeinated coffee
- 2 squares unsweetened chocolate
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- Dash of salt
- 3 cups milk

Make decaffeinated coffee extra strength, using $\frac{1}{2}$ tablespoons for each cup ($\frac{1}{2}$ pint) water. Add chocolate to coffee in top of double boiler and place over low flame, stirring until chocolate is melted and blended. Add sugar and salt, and boil 4 minutes, stirring constantly. Place over boiling water. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly; then heat. When hot, beat with rotary egg beater until frothy. Serve hot. Top with whipped cream if desired. Serves 4.

Coffee Carnival

- $\frac{1}{2}$ cups water
- $\frac{1}{3}$ cup quick-cooking tapioca
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar

- $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt
 - $\frac{1}{3}$ cup seedless raisins
 - 1 cup strong decaffeinated coffee
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla
 - 1 cup cream, whipped
- Place water in top of double boiler and bring to a boil over direct heat. Combine dry ingredients; add gradually to water, then add raisins and bring to a brisk boil, stirring constantly. Place immediately over rapidly boiling water and cook 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Remove from boiling water—mixture thickens as it cools. When slightly cool, add coffee and vanilla. Chill; fold in cream. Serve in sherbet glasses. Serves 6.

Quick-Frozen Foods Make Week-End Menus Easy

Week-ends are often a sort of busman's holiday for mother. Everybody is specially hungry and everybody expects extra good meals Saturday night and Sunday. There's quite likely to be company. All this means extra work for mother.

But the chief cook can make the week-end a real holiday if she plans the menus around quick-frozen foods. They are all ready to cook or serve just as they come from their cartons, for all the time-consuming work of cleaning and preparation was done before succulent garden vegetables, ripe, sweet fruit and delicately flavored sea foods were quick frozen. And all their fresh flavor and vitamins were sealed in by the quick-freezing process, too.

They are thrifty treats, for all waste was eliminated before arctic cold was applied. Here are recipes for delicious dishes that will bring credit to the hostess for her week-end menus.

Fish Nicoise

- 2 packages quick-frozen fillet of flounder, thawed
- Flour, salt, pepper, oil
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup butter
- 4 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 2 teaspoons oil from anchovies
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- Anchovy fillets

Separate fillets, roll in seasoned flour, and fry in small amount of cooking oil in heavy iron skillet, turning to brown both sides. Brown butter in skillet, add parsley, lemon juice, anchovy oil, and Worcestershire sauce. Place fish on hot platter, top with anchovy fillets, pour butter sauce over fish, and serve at once. Garnish with ripe olive slices, if desired. Serves 6 to 8.

Broccoli With Toasted Almonds

- 1 box quick-frozen broccoli
 - 1 cup boiling water, salted
 - $\frac{1}{4}$ cup finely shredded blanched almonds
 - 3 tablespoons butter
- Drop frozen broccoli into briskly boiling salted water, bring again to a boil, and boil gently 5 to 8 minutes, or until stalks are just tender. Drain and season with salt and pepper. Sauté almonds gently in butter until lightly browned. Sprinkle over broccoli and serve at once. Serves 4.

FISH IN LEMON ASPIC

- 2 tablespoons (2 envelopes) gelatin
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup cold water
- Sprinkle gelatin on top of water.
- Add:
- $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups hot water
- $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon sugar

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup lemon juice

Cool and add:

- 1 cup of any cooked or canned fish, flaked
- 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
- 1 cup chopped celery

Chill in individual molds. Unmold on crisp salad greens. With scissors cut fish-shaped garnishes from lemons. Accompany with Lemon Tartare Sauce in baskets made from lemons. Serves 4-6.

Playoffs For Championships
To Be Staged at Eight o'Clock

LIST OF ELIGIBLES

Each Team To Roll Four Games Across Eight
Alleys

Playoffs for the championship of the Bristol Major Bowling League will begin Monday night at 8 o'clock on the alleys of the Bristol Recreation Center. The contesting teams are Bell's All-Stars, first half winners, and Jefferson A. C., who captured the second half.

According to Secretary Horace C. States the following players are eligible for the tilt: Bell's—Kendig, Bailey, Barton, Bell, Pursell, and VanHorn; Jefferson—Carlen, Keating, Moffo, Tomlinson, Campbell, McCurry and Younglove.

The teams will roll four games across eight alleys with one point for each game and one point for the total number of pins to decide the championship.

If McCurry and Younglove remain out of the Jefferson lineup at the start the second half winners will have a handicap of 19 pins, that is, figuring that Manager Bell does not start for his team.

The final second half standing was as follows:

BENSALEM NINE DEFEATS FALLS BY ONE RUN MARGIN

Last Inning Rally Enables The Home Team To Score
Victory

FINAL SCORE IS 6 TO 5

"Russ" Jones Knocks Double
To The Center
Field

By Jack Gill

Bensalem High School tide put on a last inning rally that enabled them to defeat Fallsington at Cornwells Heights yesterday by a 6 to 5 nod. A resounding double to center field by Ross Jones and a single off the bat of George Strickler won the game in the seventh inning for the Owls.

It was a nip and tuck ball game throughout. At one stage of the fray the Blue and Gray attained a 3 to 1 lead, only to have the Orange come back and tie it up.

The Falcons stepped out to a one run advantage in the first canto when Driscoll was safe on Killian's miscue, Ellis sacrificed him and Shedka hit a liner that was fumbled momentarily.

But the winners came back with a vengeance in the same inning and sent two markers trickling across the plate. Jones beat out a bunt after Hamor had popped to Monti in left. Killian advanced him to second when Zucker erred on his grounder. Both boys moved up a base on a passed ball. Strickler hit to short and again Zucker muffed up a chance and Jones tallied. Scheerer followed suite and rapped to Zucker who, much to the dismay of all, committed his third and last error of the afternoon in the first inning by letting the ball get away from him and Killian to score the other run.

Bensalem increased this lead by scoring a run in the second on Hamor's double and two more in the third on Everitt's double and Scheerer's triple.

Fallsington tallied three times in a big third frame when Shedka drew a base on balls and Driscoll, Ellis, Sterling and Mansman beat out safe blows. Then, in the fourth, they tied the ball game up. Arch drew a base on balls, but Driscoll forced him at second on a rap to Killian. After stealing second, Ellis sent him home with a single to right field.

Bensalem flew through to triumph in the final when Russ Jones doubled and Strickler sent him home with a single. Leading the attack was Jones, who had three for three, and Jack Hamor, whose double and single came at opportune moments. Five extra base hits slid off the Owl bats, while Warren Schreerer played steady ball at third base. Ellis, Sterling and Mansmann
